American West Metals Limited (ASX: AW1) (“American West” or “The Company”) is pleased to report on its Half Yearly activities for the period ending 31 December 2021. During the reporting period, the Company's focus was completing a successful IPO and ramping up exploration activities at the West Desert and Storm/Seal Projects.

Dave O’Neill, Managing Director of American West Metals commented:

“We are extremely proud of what American West achieved during 2021. In addition to listing on the ASX with a strongly supported IPO, a significant amount of effort has been applied to exploration activities at both our flagship West Desert and also the Storm/Seal Projects. We look forward to sharing further results with our shareholders and what’s next for American West.”

West Desert Project, Utah

100% ACQUISITION OF WEST DESERT

Financial completion for the acquisition of the West Desert Project occurred contemporaneously with the IPO.

Final consideration paid by American West on IPO consisted of: (a) CAD1,000,000 in cash; (b) USD1,225,000 in cash; and (c) 13,385,000 in shares of American West.

American West is now the 100% owner of the West Desert Project. At acquisition, the Project comprised 330 acres of private land, 188 unpatented lode claims and 1 State Metalliferous Mineral Lease covering approximately 20km². Significantly, the existing ore deposit is mostly situated on private land which allows for expedited exploration and development approvals.

The Project hosts more than 59Mt of Indicated and Inferred Resources with a higher-grade core of 16.5Mt @ 6.3% Zn, 0.3% Cu, 33g/t In for 1.03Mt Zn, 45Kt Cu and 545t Indium (Ni43-101, historical and foreign). A number of exploration targets have also been identified within the project area, supporting the potential for a significant increase in the project resources.

STRATEGIC LAND POSITION EXPANSION

The new land package has been staked over unexplored ground to the north and east of the historical project claims and covers areas of additional prospective stratigraphy and intrusive rocks. The 148 new Bureau of Land Management (BLM) claims are contiguous to the to the existing 100% owned land holding, adding approximately 12km² to the Project area.

The new ground lies directly along strike of the West Desert deposit, as well as an area outside the resource envelope where high-grade zinc and copper mineralisation has been intersected by exploration drilling. It is also along strike from the historical Utah, Galena and Emma zinc-lead-silver mines (20,303 tonnes mined from 1890 to 1953).

The additional ground has been staked to cover the eastern extent of the Juab Fault, and the northern end of the Fish Springs Range. The Juab Fault is one of the major controls on the emplacement and geometry of the quartz-monzonite porphyry, and associated skarn and carbonate replacement (CRD) styles of mineralisation in the area.

The northern end of the Fish Spring Range is interpreted to contain the northern contact of the porphyry intrusive, and therefore is also considered as highly prospective. Sparse historical drilling has intersected zinc skarns along this boundary, and the area is largely unexplored.

EXPLORATION ACCELERATING

On-ground exploration work and infrastructure upgrades continued to gather pace at West Desert in preparation for the expansion of activities during 2022.

Initial work consisted of a high-resolution ground gravity survey, and the reprocessing and interpretation of historical geophysical data sets. The gravity survey was the first of its type at the Project and was completed over the existing claims and other areas of interest, including the newly staked land (Figure 2).

The historical geophysical work has included magnetics, Induced Polarization (IP) and Controlled-source Audio-frequency Magnetotellurics (CSAMT). This data is being reprocessed where possible to maximise the advances in processing capability since the completion of the surveys.

The Company has also commenced key project de-risking and scoping level activities including environmental and hydrological studies. Detailed mine design work also began focused on a range of development scenarios, that would involve both open-pit and underground mining of the high-grade mineralisation.

American West’s inaugural drill program at West Desert is now underway. More than 7,500m of diamond drilling is planned in the first phase of the 2022 drilling program. The drilling will focus on extending a number of key high-grade zinc and copper zones within the current West Desert resource, and acquiring material for metallurgical test work in the oxide and transitional zones.

Storm and Seal Projects, Nunavut

American West Metals completed ground electromagnetic (EM) surveys at the high-grade Storm Copper and Seal Zinc-Silver Projects (Storm, Seal or the Projects) on Somerset Island, Nunavut. These geophysical surveys were the first to be completed since American West Metals became project operator under the option agreement with Aston Bay Holdings (TSX-V: BAY).

STORM FIXED LOOP ELECTROMAGNETIC SURVEY

American West Metals completed fixed loop EM (FLEM) surveys that targeted extensions along strike and below known mineralisation, and over previously defined geophysical anomalies. The surveys were designed to provide greater definition of the existing targets, and to identify new targets ahead of the proposed 2022 drilling campaign.

Previous EM surveys have successfully identified several strong conductive anomalies that are associated with known copper mineralisation in the Storm Project area.

One of these is a large (>750m in strike) conductive anomaly associated with the 4100N Zone where previous high-grade intersections include 15m @ 3.88% Cu from 72.4m in hole ST99-47. A strong conductive anomaly was also recognised at the 2750N Zone where previous high-grade intersections include 110m @ 2.45% Cu from surface in hole ST97-08, and 56.3m @ 3.07% Cu from 12.2m in hole ST99-19.

The 2021 EM surveys have confirmed the correlation between the previous anomalies and high-grade copper mineralisation at the main Storm Copper showings. Numerous shallow conductors have been modelled that are coincident with mineralisation confirmed by drilling.

The known high-grade copper mineralisation at Storm lies along and adjacent to the margins of a ~1 km wide, fault-bounded valley or graben. Significantly, inversion and plate modelling of the new EM data has also defined multiple high-priority conductors associated with the Storm graben within areas previously untested by drilling.

Seven untested shallow conductors were identified (Figure 1, dark blue rectangles). All seven shallow conductors are located along, or in close proximity to the bounding faults of the Storm graben, and in areas of elevated density, identified by a 2017 airborne gravity gradiometry (AGG) survey (Figure 4). The conductors east of the 2200N and 2750N zones are also associated with significant copper in soil geochemical anomalies and mapped surface gossans, making them compelling targets for the discovery of further copper sulphides.

Seven untested deeper conductors of interest were also identified in the Storm Copper area by the 2021 surveys (Figures 3, dark red rectangles). Six of the seven anomalies are located along or adjacent to the bounding faults of the Storm graben.

The geometry and mostly gentle dips of the modelled deep conductors suggest that they may be related to stratiform type targets, and may be indicative of traditional sedimentary type copper mineralisation at depth. Given the highly resistive nature of the host geology (dolomites), even subtle conductors are considered to be prospective when combined with coincident geochemical or airborne gravity anomalies.

SEAL TEST EM SURVEY

The opportunity was also taken this season to complete the first ever ground EM survey over the high-grade zinc-silver Seal Deposit. Three survey lines were completed as a test to determine the response of the massive sulphide mineralisation.

The results indicated that the known mineralisation at Seal is not visible to this particular EM system, and therefore no anomalies could be identified in the vicinity of the deposit. Whilst this work does not preclude other EM systems effectively being used to explore around Seal, the nearby Tier 1 Polaris Zinc-Lead deposit was discovered using gravity surveys, and this will continue to be the preferred geophysical tool for testing the extensive Seal stratigraphic horizon.

BACKGROUND ON GEOPHYSICS AT STORM

Electromagnetics were proven to be an effective exploration tool when the Storm area was first surveyed with airborne EM in 1997. This survey determined a clear relationship between known, outcropping copper mineralisation with newly identified EM anomalies. Subsequent higher resolution airborne and surface EM surveys, backed up by drilling, further confirmed this association.

The 2021 FLEM surveys utilised a time domain electromagnetic (TDEM) system, featuring low noise / high power, and were completed using a fixed conventional loop configuration. A total area of approximately 18km² was completed for 945 stations, with a nominal station spacing of 100m at the Storm Copper prospect and 50m at the Seal Zinc deposit. Infills on a number of prospects at Storm were completed at 50m spacings.

Further ground EM surveys will be planned for the 2022 season to screen the Tornado and Blizzard areas. These areas lie east along strike from Storm and have existing copper in soil and gravity (AGG) anomalies.

These general purpose interim financial statements for the half-year reporting period ended 31 December 2021 have been prepared in accordance with requirements of the Corporations Act 2001 and Australian Accounting Standard AASB 134: Interim Financial Reporting. This financial report was authorised for issue in accordance with a resolution of the Board of Directors on 15 March 2022. The Group is a for-profit entity for financial reporting purposes under Australian Accounting Standards.

This interim financial report is intended to provide users with an update on the latest annual financial statements of American West Metals Limited and its controlled entities (referred to as the "consolidated group" or "Group"). As such, it does not contain information that represents relatively insignificant changes occurring during the half-year within the Group. It is therefore recommended that this financial report be read in conjunction with the annual financial statements of the Group for the year ended 30 June 2021, together with any public announcements made during the half-year.

Accounting Policies

There have been no material changes in the critical accounting policies compared to those disclosures in the Group's consolidated financial statements as at, and for the year ended 30 June 2021.

The same accounting policies and methods of computation have been followed in this interim financial report as were applied in the most recent annual financial statements. These accounting policies are consistent with Australian Accounting Standards and with International Financial Reporting Standards. American West Metals Limited has adopted all new and revised Standards issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board (the AASB) that are relevant to their operations and effective for the current half year.

New or Amended Accounting Standards and Interpretations Adopted

The consolidated entity has adopted all of the new or amended Accounting Standards and Interpretations issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board ('AASB') that are mandatory for the current reporting period. There has been no significant impact on the disclosures or the amounts recognised in the Group's consolidated financial statements as a result of the new and revised accounting standards.

Any new or amended Accounting Standards or Interpretations that are not yet mandatory have not been early adopted.

Share based payments

The Group measures the cost of equity-settled transactions with employees by reference to the fair value of the equity instruments at the date at which they are granted where the fair value of the services provided cannot be reliably measured.

Performance Rights

The fair value of performance rights issued with non-market based conditions is determined based on the quoted security price on the grant date. The number of performance rights expected to vest is determined based on the probability of achieving performance milestones.

The fair value of performance rights issued with market based conditions are valued based on using the up-and-in trinomial barrier model.

Options

The fair value of options issued are valued based on the Black-Scholes option pricing model, taking into effect terms and conditions relevant at the time of granting the instruments. The number of options expected to vest is determined based on the probability of achieving performance milestones.

Reporting Basis and Conventions

The half-year report has been prepared on an accruals basis and is based on historical costs. Cost is based on the fair values of the consideration given in exchange for assets.

All amounts are presented in Australian dollars, unless otherwise noted.

It also requires management to exercise its judgement in the process of applying the Group's accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgement or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the financial statements are:

Share based payments

The Group measures the cost of equity-settled transactions with employees and third parties by reference to the fair value of the equity instruments at the date at which they are granted.

The fair value of performance rights at the grant date is determined using the up-and-in trinomial barrier model taking into account the terms and conditions upon which the instruments were granted and the assumptions detailed in Note 5.

The fair value of options at the grant date is determined using the Black-Scholes option pricing model taking into account the terms and conditions upon which the instruments were granted and the assumptions detailed in Note 5.

Earnings Per Share

Basic earnings per share (EPS) is calculated by dividing the net loss attributable to members of the Company for the reporting period, after excluding any costs of servicing equity, by the weighted average number of ordinary shares of the Company.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REVIEW REPORT

To the members of American West Metals Limited

Report on the Half-Year Financial Report

Conclusion

We have reviewed the half-year financial report of American West Metals Limited (the Company) and its subsidiaries (the Group), which comprises the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2021, the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, the consolidated statement of changes in equity and the consolidated statement of cash flows for the half-year ended on that date, a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information, and the directors' declaration.

Based on our review, which is not an audit, we have not become aware of any matter that makes us believe that the accompanying half-year financial report of the Group does not comply with the Corporations Act 2001 including:

- (i) Giving a true and fair view of the Group's financial position as at 31 December 2021 and of its financial performance for the half-year ended on that date; and
- (ii) Complying with Accounting Standard AASB 134 Interim Financial Reporting and the Corporations Regulations 2001.

Basis for conclusion

We conducted our review in accordance with ASRE 2410 Review of a Financial Report Performed by the Independent Auditor of the Entity. Our responsibilities are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Review of the Financial Report section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the auditor independence requirements of the Corporations Act 2001 and the ethical requirements of the Accounting Professional and Ethical Standards Board's APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (including Independence Standards) (the Code) that are relevant to the audit of the annual financial report in Australia. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code.

We confirm that the independence declaration required by the Corporations Act 2001 which has been given to the directors of the Company, would be the same terms if given to the directors as at the time of this auditor's review report.

Responsibility of the directors for the financial report

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of the half-year financial report that gives a true and fair view in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and the Corporations Act 2001 and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of the half-year financial report that gives a true and fair view and is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's responsibility for the review of the financial report

Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on the half-year financial report based on our review. ASRE 2410 requires us to conclude whether we have become aware of any matter that makes us believe that the half-year financial report is not in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001 including giving a true and fair view of the Group's financial position as at 31 December 2021 and its financial performance for the half-year ended on that date and complying with Accounting Standard AASB 134 Interim Financial Reporting and the Corporations Regulations 2001.

A review of a half-year financial report consists of making enquiries, primarily of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards and consequently does not enable us to obtain assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.
